

Family sessions and pricing

What is the value of a portrait? Your family is forever changing. Some changes are a growth, some changes are a loss. A portrait holds the memories and stories about the people, and how they fit into life. A portrait often holds the soul of the subject. It is a memory that we can hold on to and remember days and times gone by.

A great portrait is not expensive...it is priceless!

The staff at Rod Brown Photography is eager to help you plan and create your family session. The location you will be photographed, the clothing, portrait style, proper frame choice and where the portrait will be displayed are all important and will be discussed in detail at our studio. Rod has been awarded for his portrait work and with his talent he will help you have fun, relax and will create breathtaking portraits that will last a lifetime.

Family portraits at Rod Brown Photography are designed with you in mind, whether traditional, casual, or a playful approach to a family session to make your portraits as unique as each family member themselves. There are many styles to choose from, indoor, outdoor, studio, black and white, urban style, in home, the options are endless!

We recommend scheduling a free portrait planning consultation to discuss clothing, portrait style and proper placement in your home. Proper planning makes a big difference in the final outcome of your family portrait. Family sessions begin at $75 and sessions can be customized to meet your needs.
